PIANO FORTES

Put in complete order tone and tune without the ... of sending them to a factory. The subscriber from Boston ... to offer his services to the citizens of Bangor and vicinity in every department of Piano Forte work. Being a practical Piano Forte worker of nearly twenty years experience and in recently from the manufactory of Messrs. CHICKERING & SONS, of Boston, where he has been employed for more than six years in the Regulating Department, gives him the utmost assurance that he can offer himself fully to the confidence of the Musical Public. Those who may be contemplating sending their Pianos to Boston to be put in order can have the opportunity to forego that inconvenience and expense, by leaving their orders with Messrs. LOWELL & SPENCER, Music Dealers, No. 14 Main Street and at E F DUREN'S Music Store, Hammond St., can have the same work accomplished without moving them from the house, the renewing of which will render the action susceptible to the most delicate touch and increase the power, volume, and quality of tone to their original capacity. Together with a style of tuning which will produce the most desirable results. Warranted to give satisfaction or no pay. The patronage of the public is respectfully solicited.

PHOTOGRAPHS.

The attention of the public is respectfully called to the popular

Photograph Gallery,
Corner of Main Street and West Market Square,
Where can be obtained any and all of the Different Styles of Solar Pictures!
The operating department will be under the sole charge of MR. JOHN A. HEARD, of Boston,

Whose experience and success in the most popular rooms in Boston for the past twenty years entitle him to the confidence and patronage of the citizens of Bangor.
All the new styles of Photographs and the ever desirable Porcelains, the gem of all pictures which Mr. Heard has made a specialty for the past five years are now being executed with a degree of beauty and excellence never before attained in this city. We also have a process for furnishing Card Photographs superior to any other now in use, giving a brilliancy and effect obtained in no other way, as may be seen by examining our specimens.

Ladies' and Gentlemen

Who consider themselves hard subjects, who "never can get a good Picture," are especially invited to call at our rooms as we are now able to remove all imperfections of the skin such as freckles &c, rendering the picture perfectly fair and clear.
Hoping that our efforts to make this the most popular Gallery in the state, in the future as it has been in the past, will be appreciated, we would respectfully return our thanks to the public for past patronage, and hope for a continuance of the same, only by employing the very best talent the Country affords. Call on us. We shall always meet you with pleasure, whether we succeed in suiting you or not.

CENTRAL RAILROAD,
OF IOWA.
CONNECTING ST. LOUIS AND ST. PAUL.
Now Nearly Completed.

This road is built by a Company of strong capitalists who have pushed the work forward at a rapid rate.

ONE MILLION
OF THE
First Mortgage
7 Per Cent. Gold Bonds of the Company remain which are offered at the very low rate of 90 and Accrued Interest.

Among the advantages are—
1st. The road is nearly finished, and the cars are expected to run across the State in 60 days.
2d. The road has been built only of the best material, the iron having been manufactured expressly for it, at a much higher cost than that usually paid.
3d. It runs through a most superb agricultural country.
4th. It has great advantages in carrying coal North and bringing lumber South.
5th. The Mortgage is only $16,000 per mile, while many other roads are bonded to double this amount.
6th. The road is principally owned by bankers and other capitalists who have invested a large sum in its construction and who have every reason to take care of its interests.
7th. A First Mortgage for so small an amount upon a road so near completion, and in such strong hands may well be considered a perfectly safe security.

We believe there will be no more favorable time to sell Governments, and buy really First class Railroad Securities—such as these—than the present. With any further decline in Gold, Governments must decline also.

Subscriptions will be received in Bangor by
P. M. BLAKE,
of whom pamphlets and full information may be had.
W. B. SHATTUCK, Treasurer
... Pine St, New York.

After a full examination we have accepted an Agency for the Sale of the above First Mortgage Bonds and desire to recommend them to our friends AS A THOROUGHLY SAFE AS WELL AS PROFITABLE INVESTMENT.

FOR INVESTMENT.

... to parties seeking safe ... the Bonds of the

MAINE CENTRAL
Railroad Company,
... of which now remains unsold ...

The issue is limited to $1,100,000, and the proceeds of sales are applied to the redemption of an ... amount of Bonds issued under previous mortgages, so that the present issue will comprise the only lien upon the entire property and franchise of this Road from Bangor to Waterville, a distance of 55 miles, and a second mortgage upon the entire property and franchise of the Road from Waterville to Danville Junction a distance of 55 miles. The Entire Road from Bangor to Danville Junction being thoroughly built and equipped in a first class manner.
The Road has been completed and in operation more than fourteen years with a large and constantly increasing business, and the security offered is worth fully three times the amount of the Bonds issued. Unlike a new road the success of this one is proven and assured and not problematical.
The Bonds become due July 1st, 1898, and bear interest at the rate of

Seven Per Cent. per Annum,
Free from Government Tax
Coupons Payable Jan 1st and July 1st in each Year.
Bonds issued in denominations of $100, $500, and $1000 each.

Large amounts of these Bonds have been purchased by Savings Banks and Capitalists who feel assured of the safety of the investment. As the premium on gold declines and the value of the Currency increases the attention of holders of Government Bonds is more strongly directed to the advisability of realizing the premium thereon and reinvesting the proceeds in first class Railroad Bonds of undoubted security which return a better rate of interest.
Bonds of the Maine Central R R falling due in 1871 and Bonds of the City of Bangor issued in aid of the Penobscot and Kennebec R R whenever due will be received in exchange for these Bonds.
Also Government Bonds and City Bonds taken at the highest market rate in exchange for such Bonds.

THE ATLANTIC CABLES.—A New York correspondent of the Boston Advertiser writes as follows about the defective cables:

The season, so mild and balmy in this latitude, has been very stormy and inclement off the Newfoundland coast, and cable repairing, which must have still weather, or it cannot go on, is not likely to be prosecuted except at long intervals and under great difficulties. Yesterday it was raining and snowing alternately, and blowing a heavy gale from the southeast, with no indications of milder circumstances for some time to come. The telegraph company's steamer, Robert Lowe, is however, still cruising and seeking to grapple the cables, and will not give up the work until it is accomplished. She has been on the ground since the 9th of November, and during the whole time has returned to port but once. This was on the 30th of last month, and she then reported that all her efforts had been fruitless, and that she had not succeeded in touching either cable, thus destroying the current belief that in searching for the defective 1866 cable she had hauled up and cut that of 1865, which had never before shown any indication of weakness or failure. The cables are from thirty to fifty miles apart, at the points where the defects are supposed to exist, 65 miles off shore, and it would be surprising if, in that waste of waters, on the most exposed coast of the north and in the depth of winter, these delicate lines at the bottom of the sea could be reached, brought up and rejoined without infinite labor, patience and hardihood. No cause is known for the defects, which have so completely cut off communication, but abrasion on rocks or sundering by icebergs are most probable. If the French cable were unimpaired and working at its ordinary speed, which, however, is considerably less than either of the other two, the disaster would not be so serious nor the prospect so grave. That line however has not been used for months for the transmission of messages eastward in consequence of a grave fault which exists near its eastern terminus and this obstacle the situation compelled that it be used for dispatches both ways. To overcome the difficulty, an unusually heavy battery power must be employed, and practical electricians and operators understand well enough the necessity of burning our candles as slowly as possible ...

Comparatively few young ladies now ... know how to place a patch neatly ... a ... garment or ... stocking so that ... it may ... Few housewives ... can sew on a patch so that the garment ... appear as good as new and the number who can "darn" well is nearly as limited. As the paper to which we refer states there are ... the aggregate millions of garments ... for paper rags which might be made good ... if the wives ... of the wearers knew how to put on a patch so neatly as to conceal the fact of patch at all to the casual observer. And it is equally true that the wives of our country have far greater need of knowing how to patch well than how to make good "patchwork," a fact our agricultural societies would do well to remember in the future arrangement of their premium list.

A PANE-FUL TRAGEDY.—A timid gentleman living on Cushnoc heights in Augusta has been disturbed in his slumbers recently by hearing strange noises about the premises causing him to rise from his sleepless couch and pace to and fro the floor with a loaded revolver in his hand and but scanty habiliments about his person. One of his neighbors had been engaged several nights in the delightful pastime of murdering rats, chasing the "varmints" through every part of the house, slaying not exactly his "three ten thousand," but very successfully supplying the place of a "rat tan terrier." A few nights ago the rat slayer was unusually demonstrative, the uproar raised led our timid individual to suppose that some one was breaking in to his domicile to rob him of his treasures amounting to a couple of hundred dollars stowed away between the beds. He speedily jumped from his bed seized the revolver and cocked it; at that very instant he thought he saw the burglar glide past the window. The trigger was pulled, the discharge ensued and the trembling Mr Timid staggered to the window to behold the corpse of his victim weltering in gore. On approaching the scene he found the glass the sash and the blinds smashed, but no dead burglar. It seems that previously to his retirement he had closed the aforesaid window and blind and the supposed midnight marauder was but the reflection of himself upon the glass from the dim light of a lamp left burning in the room. The little incident has been "rats" for the neighbors. [Kennebec Journal.

The artistic gold pen, an imitation of a quill which was recently mentioned as having been made by Herr Bissinger, Jeweller of Pforzheim, with a view to Count Bismarck signing the treaty of peace with it, has been presented to the Count, who, in acknowledging it, wrote "Your beautiful and artistic present has been delivered to me by Herr Jolly. I feel some difficulty in knowing how to express my thanks for it. At a time when the sword of the German nation has performed such illustrious feats, you render the pen almost too much honor in making it so costly. I can only hope that the use to which you have destined the pen in the service of ... may conduce to its permanent ... a fortunate peace, and I ... with God's help, it shall ... nothing unworthy of German feeling and of the German sword."

ARE OLD ISSUES SETTLED?

The remark which has become so common with those anxious for rearrangement of party lines and a redistribution of party influence that the old issues are settled, that the rebellion with all its animosities is of the past and that the work begun by the Republican party has reached its final accomplishment, is perhaps most aptly answered by the action of the Senator from Kentucky, who felt no shame in profaning the Senate Chamber of the United States by the fulsome eulogy of a rebel chieftain, and deliberately proposed to cast away the bones of the nation's dead, that their last resting place might be smoothed into lawns to adorn the home of Lee's descendants. This episode is but an instance, foreshadowing what would be attempted if the power to execute equalled the will to do and the people will hardly repose full faith in a loyalty which is thus aptly illustrated by a Democratic Senator from Kentucky.

There is one thing—says the Editor of Harper's Weekly—a journal which, leaning very decidedly towards free trade is not the less decidedly devoted to the Republican cause—and one thing only which is the sure guarantee of that national confidence which is now imperatively necessary and that is the constant conviction upon the part of all disaffected that the country fully understands what it did in the war, and means to secure it to the utmost. To insist that the old issues are settled, that the rebellion was suppressed five years ago that slavery is abolished, and the reconstruction acts are law, and that, therefore, it is wise to elect Jefferson Davis to the Senate or to take Toombs into the Cabinet or turn over the country to a Copperhead administration because some of its members hold certain opinions upon certain other subjects is to trifle with the very gravest peril. Those Republicans, therefore, who, upon a theory that revenue reform is the most vital and paramount of all issues, would willingly bring in the Democratic party, under cover of voting for Democratic free traders against Republican protectionists assume a very heavy responsibility. Suppose a representative denies the validity of the amendments, shares the Democratic hostility to the negro, and hatred of the Southern Union men, and winks at the revival of the old Southern spirit of jealousy of the Union and of the principles and tendency of the Republican party how is he less desirable or dangerous because he may be a free trader?

It is not a great many years since 1868 when General Grant was elected. We trust that Revenue Reformers who are also Republicans have not forgotten the scenes and speeches in the Tammany nominating conventions and throughout the Southern States during the campaign. In prospect of the possible success of the Democratic party which they had again proved their power to control before they had washed off the blood of the war the Southern leaders showed precisely what they were and what they meant. It was the perception of that fact which so stirred the country, and so triumphantly elected General Grant. The election drove those leaders into their lair. The spirit of disturbance with drew into silence. But it is not extinct. The least favorable sign shows it to be quite as much alive as ever, and when the next Presidential contest begins those leaders will appear with the same battle-cry. And if the Republicans have permitted themselves to part under the delusion that old issues are settled they will probably find that the issues will settle them.

Mr McCreery's outrageous proposition to disturb the ashes of the thousands of our dead soldiers that their resting place might be restored to the family of Lee created one of the most exciting scenes ever witnessed in the Senate Chamber. The audacity of the proposal together with his speech, aroused the hearty indignation of the whole Senate, and one Senator after another rebuked Mr McCreery in scathing words even his Democratic associates repudiating all share in the business. He was not allowed to withdraw the resolution and the Senate declined to receive it by a vote of 49 to 4. McCreery, Hamilton, Vickers and Fowler casting the four.

The Boston Post had a column of specials from Washington on Tuesday night, but not a word of reference to the proposition of Senator McCreery either in its editorials or correspondence.

In response to a resolution adopted last April the Senate Committee on Judiciary on Wednesday morning reported that the 14th amendment has no effect whatever upon the status of the Indian within the limits of the United States and does not annul the treaties previously made. Congress having uniformly respected the right of the Indians to govern themselves.

The N Y World waxed facetious over the conjectures as to the source from which it obtained the Porter letter, and intimated that much of its mysterious news is furnished by no less a personage than the Devil. Whereat the Tribune remarks

"No one but the Father of Lies could have concocted the remarkable fictions which The New York World trustfully receives and prints and their absurd incoherence shows that their infernal author has fallen into the driveling dotage that Ben Jonson was aware of when he wrote "The Devil is an Ass.'"

The Boston Journal's Washington correspondent, describing the scene in the House during the debate on abolishing the grades of Admiral and Vice-Admiral, says:

"Mr Hale of Maine, who like Mr Schofield is a member of the House Naval Committee, came to the rescue of the Admiral and fought gallantly in his behalf, but it was evident the House was of a different opinion. Presently Gen Butler sailed in, and opened his heavy batteries against the Admiral, giving him round after round of solid argument, with a running fire of sarcasm. The General left his own seat, and while speaking occupied that of Mr Welker, which is in the centre of the hall, directly in front of the Speaker, and as he proceeded, gentlemen who occupy back seats left them to cluster around him and to manifest their approbation, which was echoed by murmured applause in the galleries. If it be true that Gen Butler has for years waited for an opportunity to repay Admiral Porter for unkind treatment, he has not waited in vain, for everything conspired to give point to his denunciations and his sarcasms. Indeed, Admiral Porter seemed like a hen hawk which Farmer Butler had caught after years of depredation, and was nailing to the gable end of his corn house as a warning and a terror."

BAILING A COUNTERFEITER. Peter McCarterry, a notorious counterfeiter, who escaped from Cincinnati some days ago, and was arrested opposite St Louis, Mo and taken to Springfield, Ill., was released on Tuesday on $15,000 bail. It is understood that he was bailed by officers of the U S secret service, in consideration of disclosing the hiding place of a large amount of plates and material used in counterfeiting, and giving information that will lead to the arrest of his accomplices.

NARROW GAUGE IN CANADA. The Great Western Railroad of Canada will be closed between Toronto and Hamilton on Saturday for the purpose of changing the track to 4 feet, 8½ inches gauge.

The Chicago & Northwestern Railway Co. has declared a dividend of five per cent. on both capital and preferred stock, free of tax, payable December 30th.

POLITICAL AND PERSONAL.

Nicholas Duffy was fined $300 and costs for voting three times in Newark N. J

The Camden, N. J, election rioters will have their trial on Tuesday next at Trenton. Twenty-three indictments have been found.

A cable dispatch has been received in New York, announcing the death of the veteran novelist Alexandre Dumas.

Official returns of the late election in Missouri, show a total vote of 167,710. Brown received 103 374 and McClurg 63 336. Majority for Brown, 40,038.

Senator Schurz's speech on his Amnesty bill to-day, will embrace a defence or explanation of his course during the late canvass in Missouri.

General Frank P Blair, who was elected by the Democrats to the Missouri Legislature is spoken of as their probable candidate for Speaker of the House of Representatives.

On the repeal of the Tenure-of-Office act by a vote of 157 yeas to 25 nays, those from New England who voted nay were Messrs Benton, Jenckes, Lynch, Poland, Smith and Willard.

Chas Francis Adams delivered his lecture on "The struggle for neutrality in America" before a very large audience in the New York Academy of Music Tuesday evening on the occasion of the 66th anniversary of the New York Historical Society.

James A Weston, Democrat, has been elected Mayor of Manchester, N H receiving 1156 votes against 957 for Wallace Republican, and 103 for Chandler Temperance candidate. The majority of the City Council is Republican.

Gen Logan authorizes a contradiction of the statement that he protested to the President, as the representative of the Grand Army of the Republic, against the appointment of Gen Pleasanton. The assertion is an entire fabrication, without the slightest foundation in fact.

Over one hundred delegates were present at the State Council of the Union League of America for New Jersey at Trenton on Tuesday. Wm A Newell was re-elected President, and resolutions indorsing the Administration and presenting the name of ex Governor Newell as the candidate for U S Senator, were passed.

It is understood that Senator Drake will not leave the Senate to accept his new appointment until after he has replied to Schurz's expected speech on Missouri affairs. Some astonishment is felt over his acceptance of the Judgeship, in view of the present political complexion of the Missouri Legislature and the fact that his term does not expire until 1873.

The contest for the United States Senatorship, in place of Jacob M Howard in Michigan, is so even that no one can foretell the result. Four candidates appear to divide the favors of the Legislature. Mr Howard wants to be re elected. William R. Howard, a former member of Congress, and T W Ferry and Austin Blair of the present House of Representatives are also candidates.

When Senator Revels went to lecture at Norwich Ct the other day the landlord of the hotel began to canvass among his boarders to see whether they would permit his presence at the table. While they were engaged Gov Buckingham took the Senator in his carriage to his mansion and made him his own guest.

In his remarks to a delegation of the Boys in Blue, on Thursday evening last the President said — The capital can be removed from here by no less a power than it would take to erase from the Constitution one of its articles. No law could accomplish it. To remove it it takes two thirds vote in both Houses of Congress and a three fourths vote of all the States.

The last advices from Andrew Johnson, represent him as about to begin a crusade against those Democrats in Tennessee who insist upon making secession the ouch stone and service in the Confederate army the sine qua non for office. Tennessee Republicans do not hesitate to predict that by 1872 he will be fully prepared to support Gen Grant's re election.

A canvass of the U S Senate shows little prospect for the purchase of San Domingo. Senator Wilson is represented as saying, "Under no circumstances will I vote to acquire that island by joint resolution as in the case of Texas." While he favors the acquisition of all the West India Islands he will not vote for their purchase unless it be done by a regular treaty duly submitted to the Senate for ratification or rejection.

With regard to the organization of the next House of Representatives it is stated that there are now 218 Representatives elected, of whom 107 are members of the present House, while 109 are new men, though some few are well known, either from having served in previous Congresses or holding other positions. Elections are yet to be held in twenty-eight districts.

FOREIGN NOTES.

A World Special from London states that the Revolutionary party at Rome attempted an emeute on the 9th inst., threatening to sack St. Peters and attack the Vatican. The disturbance reached formidable proportions before it was quelled by gens d'armes aided by the military. A number of the revolutionists were wounded but none killed.

The same writer asserts that the exact truth about reported proposal of an armistice is that Gambetta suggested to Lord Lyons with a view to the speedy meeting, and efficiency of the coming Congress on the Eastern question, that an armistice be pressed by the neutral powers, in order to allow elections of a Constitutional Assembly, and thus give weight to the presence of the French Plenipotentiary in said Congress. No overture had been made to Bismarck nor has the suggestion had any result.

A Berlin despatch says the King of Prussia was personally unwilling to assume the title of Emperor, but the opinion of the Crown Prince and King of Bavaria on the matter prevailed on him to assume the title.

MURDERS IN TENNESSEE. Robert Savage and Sullivan charged with the murder of A D Jones, were indicted for murder in the first degree, at Memphis on Tuesday, by the grand jury.

W H Taylor of White County, Arkansas was shot and killed by a man named Lorgatred on the 6th inst.

Elijah Ramsey was assassinated on Tuesday night near Jacksonport by a party of men, who called him to the door and shot him dead.

A Troy despatch states that Hugh Allen of Montreal, has purchased the Northern Transportation Company's propellors, and will run them between Chicago, Milwaukee and Montreal in connection with his ocean steamers, giving western shippers through bills of lading to the British markets, with freights so low that trade will be largely diverted to this route and carried in British bottoms, unless the tolls are taken off the Erie canal.

A TRAIN RUNS INTO AN OPEN DRAW. The engineer on the Tuesday evening train from Hunter's Point to Flushing, L. I., discovered the draw open over Flushing Creek, when not more than fifty yards from the bridge. He immediately applied the steam-brakes, but the locomotive was precipitated into the creek and the smoking-car hung suspended in the air, while the passenger cars remained on the track. The engineer, fireman and one passenger were slightly bruised. The signal man had opened the draw for a vessel, and left the safe signal up, supposing he had time to close the draw before the arrival of the train.

A fire in Kentland, Ind., on Wednesday, destroyed half of the business portion of the town.

DR SCHENCK ADVISES CONSUMPTIVES TO GO TO FLORIDA IN WINTER

Having for the last thirty five years devoted ... the study of lung diseases ... [illegible] ...

For fifteen years prior to 1869, I was professionally in New York, Boston, Baltimore, and Philadelphia every week, where I saw and examined on an average five hundred patients a week. A practice so extensive embracing every possible phase of lung disease has enabled me to understand the disease fully and hence my caution in regard to taking cold. ... [illegible] ...

Now there are many consumptives who have not the means to go to Florida. The question may be asked Is there no hope for such? Certainly there is. My advice to such is and ever has been to stay in a warm room during the winter, with a temperature of about seventy degrees which should be kept regularly at that point by means of a thermometer. Let such a patient take his exercise within the limits of the room by walking up and down as much as his strength will permit, in order to keep up a healthy circulation of the blood. I have cured thousands by this system and can do so again. Consumption is as easily cured as any other disease if it is taken in time and the proper kind of treatment is pursued. The fact stands undisputed on record that Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup Mandrake Pills and Sea Weed Tonic have cured very many of what seemed to be hopeless cases of consumption. Go where you will you will be almost certain to find some poor consumptive who has been rescued from the very jaws of death by their use.

So far as the Mandrake Pills are concerned everybody should keep a supply of them on hand. They act on the liver better than calomel and leave none of its hurtful effects behind. In fact they are excellent in all cases where a purgative medicine is required. If you have partaken too freely of fruit and diarrhœa ensues, a dose of the Mandrakes will cure you. If you are subject to sick headache take a dose of the Mandrakes and they will relieve you in two hours. If you would obviate the effect of a change of water or the too free indulgence in fruit take one of the Mandrakes every night and you may then drink water, and eat watermelons, pears, apples plums peaches or corn, without the risk of being made sick by them. They will protect those who live in damp situations against chills and fevers. Try them. They are perfectly harmless. They can do you only good.

I have abandoned my professional visits to Boston and New York, but continue to see patients at my office, No 15 North Sixth Street, Philadelphia, every Saturday from 9, a. m. to 3 p. m. Those who wish a thorough examination with the Respirometer will be charged five dollars. The Respirometer declares the exact condition of the lungs, and patients can readily learn whether they are curable or not. But I desire it distinctly understood, that the value of my medicines depends entirely upon their being taken strictly according to directions.

In conclusion, I will say, that when persons take my medicines and their systems are brought into a healthy condition thereby, they are not so liable to take cold, yet no one with diseased lungs can bear a sudden change of atmosphere without the liability of greater or less irritation of the bronchial tubes.

Full directions in all languages accompany my medicines so explicit and clear that any one can use them without consulting me and can be bought from any druggist. J H SCHENCK M D. No 15 North Sixth Street Philadelphia.

FORTY-FIRST CONGRESS

THIRD SESSION.

SENATE

WASHINGTON, Dec 14

Memorials were presented by Messrs Conkling and Sherman representing that many of the veterans of the war of 1812 are now inmates of poor houses and objects of charity and praying for pensions in their behalf. The House Resolution for a recess from the 22d of Dec to Jan 4th was concurred in, 30 to 1[...].

Mr Nye submitted and asked the present consideration of a Resolution requesting the Secretary of the Treasury to communicate to the Senate the proceedings had relative to the collection of the tax on $45,000,000 of scrip dividends of the New York Central Railroad Company, and whether the said tax had been paid. Adopted.

Mr Fenton submitted the following Resolved that the Committee on Retrenchment be instructed to furnish a comparative detailed statement of the cost of collecting the customs revenue at the port of Boston, Philadelphia, Baltimore, New Orleans and San Francisco with such recommendations favoring a reduction on such expenses as they may deem compatible with the interest of the public service. Also to particularly report on the present system and practice connected with the warehousing business at New York. Also information what is commonly known as the General Order business and cartage of goods while in the custody of the Government. Adopted.

A Resolution by Mr Fenton was adopted calling on the Secretary of the Treasury for full information as to the proceeds of fines, penalties, forfeitures and seizures by Custom House officers at New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Baltimore, New Orleans and San Francisco from January 1, 1868 to Jan 1 1870 with the full details of legal proceedings or the manner by which moneys were obtained, informers' moiety paid, name of persons prosecuted and punished otherwise than by fine.

Mr Ross' bill, suspending the issue of the title of the Miami Reservation of Land in Kansas until the alleged frauds in the sale have been investigated, was passed.

The bill providing a relief fund for the employes of the Executive Department was discussed for an hour by Messrs. Conkling, Davis, Morton, Drake, [...], Howe and [...] the question turned upon the propriety of leaving compulsory contributions upon the Government clerks to defray the funeral expenses of deceased associates and for other purposes. It was objected that the proposed legislation could have no binding efficiency and was ludicrous to the clerks.

Mr Howell proposed the establishment of a regular and sufficient fund to relieve all actual want in the District of Columbia. He detailed the circumstances attending a deplorable case of destitution recently coming under his notice in Washington, and remarked that it was a burning shame and hideous crime on the part of some one that actual want should exist within the shadow of the Capitol.

Mr Davis offered an amendment prohibiting political assessments in the offices.

Mr Wilson submitted a substitute for the amendment of bill previously introduced by him on the same subject.

Mr Drake indicated a modification of Mr Davis' amendment, to the effect that the prohibition should cease as soon as the Democratic party came into power. (Laughter.)

Mr Saulsbury remarked that the lesson taught the Senator from Missouri in his own State had opened his eyes to the fact that the party of which he was so distinguished a member was about passing out of existence to make way for the great national party, which, though temporarily defeated by fraud and violence was again about to unfold its time-honored flag above a re-united country.

The bill was then laid aside and the bill of the last session to promote the securing of efficient seamen for the Navy was passed, amended by a new section providing the same allowance for clothing in the Navy to non commissioned officers, privates or boys, as in the marine corps.

The Senate took up the bill appropriating $25,000 to compensate J Millarhies of Paducah Ky a Union surgeon, for the destruction of his house in 1864 by order of a Union commander during a rebel attack upon the place.

The general questions of the liability of the government to pay for private property taken for public use and whether the destruction of the premises in the prosecution of an act of war was unconstitutional in the sense of their appropriation for public use were discussed during the remainder of the session by Messrs Willey, Scott and Morton in favor of, and Messrs Conkling and Chandler in opposition.

Without disposing of the bill the Senate held an executive session of ten minutes and adjourned.

HOUSE

Mr Morrell of Pa., from the Com on Manufactures, reported a bill to provide for celebrating the 100th Anniversary of American Independence by holding an International Exhibition of arts, manufactures, productions of the soil and mines, at Philadelphia, in 1876. Mr Morrell asked that the bill be made a special order for the 4th Thursday in January.

Mr Allison objected.

Mr Morrell stated that the exhibition would be no expense to the Government, but he wished Congress to give an exhibition of a national character.

Mr Cleveland of N. J., opposed the bill as covering a great scheme. He calculated that the mileage of the Commissioners whose appointment is provided in the bill, would amount to two million dollars.

Mr Myers of Pa., supported the bill.

Mr Dawes moved to amend the bill by striking out the provision for mileage for commissioners and inserting that they should be paid their actual travelling expenses.

Mr Morrell accepted the amendment.

Mr Allison of Iowa objected to the large number of commissioners provided in the bill—three from each State and Territory—and moved to reduce them to one from each State and Territory. Agreed to.

Mr Welker of Ohio moved an amendment providing that no expense shall be incurred by the United States under the bill.

Mr Cleveland moved to amend by providing that the appointment of commissioners shall be made by the Governors of the several States, instead of by the President.

The last two amendments were considered pending, when the bill went over till to-morrow.

The House then proceeded to the consideration of the bill for a full and general grace, amnesty and oblivion of all wrongful acts, doings or omissions, of all persons engaged in the late rebellion.

The bill excepts West Point and Annapolis graduates, members of either House of Congress and of the Confederate Congress, heads of departments, of U. S. Ministers and judges of any U S Courts who engaged in the rebellion, members of secession conventions and governors of the seceded States, [who] cruelly treated Federal prisoners of war, or who have not duly accounted for U. S. funds entrusted to them during the rebellion, or who have embezzled or secreted any of the money, property or public stores of the United States, and all deserters from the U. S. army or navy, and all bounty-jumpers. The bill also excepts all property confiscated or forfeited, the title to which is now held by the U. S. or any third person, and all land occupied by the national cemeteries. The act does not impair the prosecution, removal or disability of any persons whom it excepts from its provisions and dilates invalid every right of action and liability arising in any ordinance, law or contract in aid of the rebellion.

Mr Butler of Mass., who reported the bill from the Com. on Reconstruction, proceeded to explain and advocate it. He said it was drawn "mutatis mutandis" from the amnesty bill passed by the English Parliament after the Scotch rebellion in 1745. The bill excepted leaders of the rebellion. They had played for empire and lost, and should now take the penalty. It would be seen that the first section only applied to those military and naval officers of the U S who had received an education at West Point or Annapolis. As to the provision referring to national cemeteries he said he thought it time after hearing the eulogy in the Senate on Gen Lee, that the idea that these cemeteries could be in any way tampered with, should be put an end to. If Union soldiers did anything during the war, they certainly conquered land enough to be buried in. We want this bill passed, if for no other reason, so that the question might be settled forever.

Messrs Farnsworth and Beck offered substitutes for the bill—the former removing unconditionally, all disabilities under the 3d section of the 14th amendment and the latter excepting only West Point and Annapolis graduates, members of Congress, heads of departments, U S Ministers and U S Judges who aided and participated in the rebellion.

Mr Bingham of Ohio moved a substitute for the first section excepting only such as were Senators or Representatives in Congress in 1860, or 1861 or in either such years officers in the army or navy, heads of departments, Judges, U S Ministers and all persons who in violation held office since the 1st of June, 1870. He argued that nine tenths of the matter in the bill was matter over which the Reconstruction Committee had no jurisdiction but belonged properly to the Judiciary Committee. He believed that the Republican party and press desired to have a general amnesty extended. He thought the party had lost State after State by Congress refusing to pass such a bill, and would continue to lose as long as Congress maintained that position.

Mr Potter of N Y also spoke in support of Mr Farnsworth's amendment, and at the conclusion of his remarks, the bill went over.

Mr Dawes reported a Legislative, Judicial and Executive Appropriation bill which was made a special order for Tuesday night. It appropriates about $20 000 000. Adj

LOCAL AND OTHER ITEMS

—The Collector of the Port of Bangor is now in Washington on business.

—The oldest inhabitant ventures the prediction that we shall have a mild winter.

—The season for chapped hands is fast approaching.

—Yesterday afternoon a farmer on the Levant road ploughed his garden. He evidently thinks it is now spring.

—Why is it that Express men and the employes on the Maine Central call the afternoon train West and the morning train East the "Red Line"?

"SPRING TIME COME AGAIN."—Pansies, full blown, were picked yesterday morning in the garden of John Dole Esq on Thomas' Hill.

—The morning train into this city and the afternoon train out, prove of great advantage to the people on the line of the Maine Central Railroad. The afternoon mail closes at 2 o'clock.

—Buy your holiday presents of the men who advertise. They have the best assortment, the newest goods, and sell at the lowest prices.

—Unless we have a snow storm before many days Santa Claus' sleigh and eight tiny reindeer will avail him but little and his yearly round will have to be made on wheels.

—We learn that the members of the Senior Class of the High School propose to give a Dramatic Entertainment together with selections of vocal and instrumental music at the High School room next Monday evening.

—Mr A P Stubbs, book agent, of Winterport, was severely beaten on Thursday evening but fortunately escaped without permanent injury. This unfortunate difficulty will prevent him from delivering his books for several days.

—On account of the entertainment to be given by the Cadets of Temperance this evening Prof Stone postpones his seance until to-morrow evening when he will show some of his amusing and instructive experiments, some of them different from those heretofore given.

—The steamer Katahdin was compelled to put into Portland on account of the storm and did not arrive in Boston until Wednesday morning. She left at five o'clock last evening and will be at her wharf in Bangor this afternoon.

—The business of changing the grade on the Belfast & Moosehead Lake Railroad is being pushed as rapidly as possible considering the unfavorable weather. Twenty miles of the track have been changed and it is believed that the work will be accomplished this week.

MASONIC. At the annual meeting of Dirigo Lodge, held at Monson on the 12th of December the following officers were chosen:—A F Jackson, Master; F R Haynes S W; A W Chapin, J W; Morrill Prescott, Tr; C A Packard Sec; G A Mathews S D; F W Bray J D.

—Petitions were in circulation yesterday asking for the appointment of several gentlemen to fill the places of political trust, in the expectation that a general change will be made in this vicinity on the 4th of March.

—The gentleman who owns the new building lately erected near the depot of the Maine Central Railroad informs the inquiring public that the reason the building is not larger, is that he owns no more ground in the vicinity.

—The Cadets of Temperance will give an entertainment at City Hall this evening—Among the attractions will be songs, dialogues, tableaux, speeches &c. The entertainment will undoubtedly be well worth the patronage of the public, and in addition there will be the satisfaction of having contributed to the advancement of a worthy object.

—The roads in the country are in a very bad condition. The mild weather has given a bountiful foundation of slosh and stages are generally behind time. The Eastern stage failed to arrive in season for the West train, yesterday morning and the Belfast stage did not arrive last evening till after 'early candle light.' There is no prospect of ice in the river for a week at least.

AN ELEGANT CAR. One of the finest cars on any road this side of Boston was run over the Maine Central on yesterday morning's train in to this city. It was built at the car shop in Augusta and reflects credit upon the workmen employed in its construction. We understand that all the work on this car was done in the shop, which is a step in the right direction, as heretofore, no inconsiderable portion has been purchased at manufactories abroad. The railroad interest in Maine is becoming so extensive that we hope it will soon be found that every car and locomotive can be profitably manufactured within our own borders.

DROWNED. James Kirby, an Irishman about fifty years of age, who has been for many years past in the employ of T H Getchell, Esq of this city, was drowned between five and six o'clock last evening by falling from the wharf near the Brewer ferry way. It is supposed that he struck some hard substance in falling as his head was considerably bruised. He was in the water but a very short time. He was alive when taken out, but soon ceased to breathe, and all efforts to resuscitate him were unavailing. He leaves a wife who is now confined to the house by sickness.

—P of Pierce, Superintendent of the Coast Survey, enumerates among the work of the past season, the topography of the shores and the hydrography of Mosabec Beach on the coast of Maine, triangulation for the survey of South West Harbor, Mt. Desert Island, extension of the hydrography at the entrance to Penobscot Bay, topography of the Fox Islands of the vicinity of Muscle Ridge Channel, and that of the Islands in Penobscot Bay near Camden, plain table work and surroundings on the Kennebec river near Gardiner, coast topography near Biddeford.

THE CHAMPION "MEAN MAN." The Portland Press has found him and he lives in that city. It says "A gentleman on Exchange street informs us that not a long while ago many of the store-keepers were annoyed by a gentleman, known to be in comfortable circumstances, who would enter some one of their stores every afternoon and after reading the daily paper coolly pocket it. Mentioning the circumstance one day to a fellow boarder of the culprit that gentleman remarked, 'why, how very strange, only a few weeks ago he made a proposition to me that we should take the paper together, each paying half the subscription, and that he should have the paper at his office mornings and bring it to me in the afternoons, and I accepted his proposition and paid him the four dollars.' It seems that the man was so mean he not only stole the paper belonging to others but made a friend pay him four dollars a year for the sake of reading his stolen goods. That man will make a financier if he lives long enough."

—The Argus states that the Swedish colony of 100 persons which settled in Water Valley, Mississippi, last May, don't like the climate there and have sent a communication to W. W. Thomas, Jr., Commissioner of Immigration, asking that they may be provided for in Aroostook County. Mr Thomas has replied to them, inviting them to come and join the colony. He is also constantly in receipt of letters from Swedes in all parts of the United States, inquiring about our colony, and some from Illinois and one from West of the Mississippi have already joined it. To show the condition of the colony in Aroostook county as compared with the one in Mississippi, it may be stated that not a man, woman or child has suffered a day's illness since arriving there.

—The Argus states that as the mixed train on the P & K Railroad consisting of fourteen traffic and one well loaded passenger car, drawn by two locomotives, was starting up from a watering station near Freeport, on Tuesday, the shackles gave way two cars from the engines and away they went leaving the balance of the train and passengers stationary. The engines ran nearly to Yarmouth before their light load was discovered.

—The Press relates that a nice young man got on board the Maine Central cars at Monmouth, on Saturday and seated himself side of a fine looking old farmer with whom he got into conversation. When the train reached Lewiston a man came aboard and presented a bill to the young man for goods to the value of $100. The young man drew his wallet and found that he had not enough within $32 to pay the bill, and turning to the farmer asked him to accommodate him and that he would pay him as soon as he could get the money from his trunk in the baggage car; that he would not have time to get it out and pay his creditor before the train started. The farmer complied and so honest and particular was the young man, that he handed back to the farmer a dollar bill which he said he had given too much. The creditor left with the money, and the young man left for the baggage car to get the funds to repay the farmer. Alas! the youth returned no more.

—The Lewiston Journal says that as the six o'clock train from Bath, on Tuesday evening was coming up to Brunswick, when a mile from Bath the engine threw a rail out of the track—completely clear. The whole train passed over the gap on the sleepers and when stopped every wheel was on the track. The passengers were badly frightened but no one was hurt.

—The Journal is informed that a young man named Brooks Coffin of Gorham N H fell down between the cars of a freight train on the Grand Trunk Railroad on which he was brakeman as it was approaching Danville Junction at 1 40 Wednesday morning—The whole train ran over him cutting off both legs and an arm and bruising his head badly. One leg was torn completely out of his body at the hip. He lived till 4 45 a m.

—The Portland Press learns that the new and substantial iron bridge nearly completed across the Presumpscot at Saccarappa fell on Monday afternoon and would have been plunged into the river had it not been caught on piers that were being built up from the river bed to it. Several of the workmen were injured but no bones were broken. The planking of the bridge was being laid at the time of the accident.

—The Press says that Mr H K Hackley, a Norwegian by birth but who has lived since he was ten years of age in Iowa where he was Sheriff, got badly swindled while on the cars between Albany and Boston coming to Portland to take passage in the Prussian. The confidence game was played on him to the tune of about $200.

—The Advertiser says that the Portland & Kennebec Railroad Company have recently settled the claims for damages suffered by several persons in the late railroad disaster on the Bath Branch. Claims have been paid in all to the amount of several thousand dollars. To the wife of the late Conductor Crawford, they gave the sum of forty dollars a month so long as she shall remain a widow.

—The Lewiston Journal says Saturday morning Benjamin Galloway was arrested on the charge of rape committed upon Mrs Buhner of Webster. He was brought before Justice Cotton for examination, and the evidence was so strong that the respondent was committed to jail to await the action of the S J Court.

MASONIC. Officers of Siloam Lodge, Kendall's Mills: S S Brown W M; F E McFadden, S W; A H Duren J W; Charles Marriner Treas; E F Tukey Sec; Edwin Town S D; B B Lewis J D.

Officers of Penobscot Lodge, Dexter: Ephraim Gee, W M; Wm R Abbott S W; Geo Bentley, J W; Newell H Bates Sec.

—The Portland Argus remarks: Since the departure of the steamer Mahoning for Boston—a lapse of four days—we have had two important wrecks upon the coast of Maine to illustrate the folly of the change of station ordered by the Treasury Department.

—The Kennebec Journal says that the Vassalboro Manufacturing Company are now running their mill on full time.

—The Journal learns that a saw mill situated in Perkins' Plantation owned by Hildreth & May, was destroyed by fire on Friday last. Loss $8 000. Insured for $4 000 in the Union Insurance Co, of this city, and Home of New Haven.

—A man about 50 years of age evidently insane, was picked up at Winnegance, and for a week past has been an inmate of the lockup in Bath. From a transportation pass found upon him his name is supposed to be John Holtman of Gottenburg Sweden. He was taken to the Augusta hospital yesterday.

—A young man named Harrington was drowned at Parker's Head last night, by the upsetting of a boat, says a Bath dispatch.

—The Argus is informed that George E Stiles of Portland, was knocked down and robbed on the 11th inst, in Littleton N H. He remained entirely unconscious at the Union Hotel, on the 12th.

—The Lewiston Journal says that Widow Solomon Briggs died in East Buckfield, Dec 9th, aged ninety years five months, being the oldest resident of Hartford.

—John Jackson has been appointed Postmaster at Dixfield vice J T Medder resigned.

—The December Term of the S. J Court for Sagadahoc, commences in Bath Tuesday, the 20th inst.

—The telegraph line has been extended from Boothbay Harbor to Hodgdon's Mills.

—The Unity Farmers' Club has passed resolutions against horse trotting at Fairs and requests the North Penobscot Society to discontinue it.

—A Gardiner firm has received from parties in New York an order for 60 000 base ball bats.

—The Reporter says that Mr. J B Young let a heavy bar of iron fall upon his foot in Perry's machine shop, in Gardiner, last Monday, severely jamming his toes and producing a painful wound.

—A young man by the name of Collins had his arm jammed while shackling cars at the Grand Trunk depot, in Portland, Thursday, says the Argus.

—Hon. Edward O'Brien has presented Orient Lodge No. 15, F. & A. Masons, of Thomaston, with an elegant chandelier, (valued at one hundred and twenty-five dollars,) for use in their Lodge Room.

—A Young Men's Christian Association was formed in Rockland last week, and elected for officers, Will E. Spear, President; A. L. Small and E A. Burpee Vice Presidents; E. T Fuller, Secretary and F. M Shaw, Treasurer, says the Gazette.

—The Camden Herald says that Talbot, Rust & Gould, have nearly completed at Rockport, a new pile wharf, 200 feet long and 45 wide, with two angles, 100 feet each, with a drop thirty feet long for the accommodation of steamboats. The other portion will be used for their ice business.

—The Argus says there was brought into Portland Monday, a curious cargo from Harvey, N. B., by the schooner Plymouth. It consisted of 524 geese, 129 turkeys, 112 ducks and 129 chickens. All this cargo of poultry was alive and would have kicked had not their legs been tied.

—Monday, the Portland & Ogdensburg Railroad was opened to Baldwin. Monday night the rails were laid to Break Neck brook, beyond West Baldwin, where a bridge will soon be built. At West Baldwin the station house, freight and wood shed, water tank and shelter for the locomotives are being erected.

—While at work on Talbot, Rust & Gould's new steamboat wharf at Rockport, a few days ago Mr B R Field had one of his thumbs taken off by some machinery, says the Camden Herald.

—The effect of competition between two traders at Mechanic Falls, last week on kerosene, resulted in the running out of their entire stocks of that article at ten cents a gallon. They have since replenished but now ask a much higher price.

—Application will be made to the Legislature of Maine, at its next session by the Androscoggin Railroad Company for authority to extend its railroad from the town of Brunswick to tide water in the city of Bath, and to connect the same with the Knox and Lincoln Railroad.

WHAT IS VITALITY?—Some philosophers call it Animal Magnetism, some Nervous Force, others Caloric, but by whichever name it may be called, the thing meant is the main spring of existence, it is the principle within, and which may be nourished by proper attention to the requirements of the body and the avoidance of excesses. If it is wasted or destroyed by overtaxing the mind with study or anxiety and intemperate indulgences, indeed, it requires an expenditure of vitality for every thought or action equal to the magnitude of the thought or action. When the body and the brain are well balanced, the stomach is capable of restoring the waste, but when the brain is large in proportion, the stomach is incapable of supplying it, in other words, the expenditure is too large for the income. Here lies the cause of so much suffering from diseases of the Heart, Liver, Stomach and Lungs, and FELLOWS' COMPOUND SYRUP OF HYPOPHOSPHITES is the only preparation known which imparts this vitality directly, and consequently the power to overcome disease.

BECKY SMITH AND JOHNNY GREY

Two brown heads with tangled hair
Two little urchins free from care
Barefoot brown and stained with dirt
Homespun frock and checkered shirt
Little girl and boy were they
Becky Smith and Johnny Grey

They were standing on a hill
Picking strawberries with a will
Johnny's mouth was wide and deep
He put his berries there to keep
Becky's nimble fingers flew
Among the vines all wet with dew

And soon she filled her basket neat
With the berries ripe and sweet
Then with arms all stained with red
She placed her basket on her head
As she littered half in play
Chattering to Johnny Grey

Give me some Becky! Johnny said
But when Becky shook her head
Johnny changed his tone as quick
Boys are strong and girls are weak
I will have some see I will
Or I'll throw you down the hill

Becky answered with a frown
I'd like to see you throw me down
Then said taking timer poise
Girls are strong as well as boys
Do you think that Becky guessed
Half the visitors she expressed?

Johnny strove the prize to gain
But alas his boast was vain
Against his strength was Becky's skill
He fell sprawling down the hill
And in somewhat wiser grown
When he reached the top alone

But childhood's quarrels after all
Do not change the heart at all
And when long years from that day
Becky Smith and Johnny Grey
Strolled again upon the hill
Eating strawberries with a will

Is it strange that Johnny said
While there came a blush of red
Through the brownness of his cheek
I am strong and you are weak
Life is but a slippery mount
Dearest let us go together down

Will you trust me Becky dear?
Think a little who it fear
We'll both fall together if you will
Both shall bear our burdens up the hill
Becky answered looking shy
We'll both go together by and by

And far away
Where the little Indians play
Where the buffalo abound
Where the prairie wolves are found
Stands a log hut where to-day
Becky lives with Johnny Grey

In a basket at her feet
Lies a berry plump and sweet
Softly lifted from the vine
That she picked in early spring
But Becky thinks and Johnny too
It was a better berry never grew

REV ELIJAH P LOVEJOY

A Sketch of the Life of the Martyr of the Freedom of the Press together with the Circumstances and Incidents which attended his Foul Murder at Alton Illinois

To read the graphical sketches of those who have been eminent for their virtues either as patriots statesmen philanthropists, or Christians has a tendency to increase our devotion to the principles they represent, and when more than one of these virtues are united in the same person it has, not only the effect to dilate but heightens our admiration, for his or her character. Having learned in my younger days to revere the memory of the man whose name heads this article, and being for the first time on the ground where the scene was enacted that will transmit his name to posterity as an important part of American history I thought it might be acceptable especially to some of your younger readers, for me to lay before them a brief review of some of the incidents connected with his life

Elijah P Lovejoy was born November 9th 180 , at Albion, Kennebec County Maine His father Rev Daniel Lovejoy was a Congregational minister Until Elijah was 18 years of age, the only opportunity he had for education was a few months at the district school each year and the assistance of his mother He then attended one quarter at an academy in Center of Waterville College in September 18 He graduated with the first honors of his class in September, 182 and at once engaged in teaching Like many another son of New England before and since, he turned his face toward the great West, and in May 1827 left his native hills to seek a home and fortune among strangers. When about to depart he wrote a poetic farewell The following closing lines would indicate that he had almost a prophetic vision of the fate that awaited him

I go to meet
... [illegible]
... [illegible] Farewell

After having been detained on the way by sickness he arrived in St. Louis late in the ... recommenced teaching. ... editing ... St Louis Times a paper advocating the election of Henry Clay as President of the United States. He seemed to be looking for ... political advancement for himself until January 18 , when his mind became ... the subject of religion and in ... of February he united with the Presbyterian Church. He determined at once to ... the editorial chair and now in the ... of his age to commence preparing ... the ministry So quick was he to ... that by the 1st of March he was on his way to the Theological Seminary at Princeton N J. Although he had been ... years from home he would not spare time to visit his relatives, but entered with the greatest ardor upon his duties His first letter from Princeton is dated April 2, 1832 In April 183 he was licensed to preach by the Presbytery of Philadelphia. The summer of that year was spent in preaching at Newport R I and at Spring Street Church New York. While at New York he received tidings of the death of his father His letter to his mother brothers and sisters at this time were exceeding tender and affectionate, and he expresses a great desire to visit his old home but denies himself the pleasure, because he thinks the Providence of God for bids it as they are calling imperatively for him at the West and to the West he has decided to return

His first work was to edit a religious paper in St Louis He arrived in that city on the 11th of November, and the first number of the St Louis Observer appeared November 22 1833. Soon after he commenced the work of editing the paper, the corner stone of a Roman Catholic cathedral was laid on the Sabbath in St. Louis on which occasion the United States cavalry and artillery were brought into requisition to assist in making an imposing pageant which, with the booming of cannon and beating of drums was designed to give eclat to the occasion The whole scene was such an open desecration of the Sabbath and prostitution of the United States army to uses for which it was not intended that the very truthful notice of the affair in the Observer incurred the displeasure of the adherents of that Church As long as the editor remained in St Louis, he always insisted that his persecutions emanated chiefly from that source although it was done under the cry of Abolitionist. Mr Lovejoy was not an original Abolitionist, for as late as 1834 he was more favorable to Colonizationists Even in 183 he concurred in the views of the Missouri Republican when it expressed the hope that an amendment would be made to the State constitution of Missouri, providing for gradual emancipation He expressed the opinion editorially, however, that masters, especially those professing to be Christians should immediately abolish the cruel treatment practiced by so many upon their slaves

On the 4th of March 1835, Mr Lovejoy was married at St. Charles, Mo., to Miss Celia Ann French she in the 22d and he in the 33d year of his age.

The first serious disturbance on the slavery question was in October 1835 Mr Lovejoy was absent from St. Louis attending meetings of presbytery and synod An editorial written before his departure, appeared in the Observer during his absence. In after times it would have been offensive to anti slavery men on account of its mildness, but threats were made to mob the office, and on the 8th of October the owners found it necessary to publish a card to allay the excitement. October 21, they published another statement to appease the public

On the return of the editor a paper was presented to him, signed by a number of wealthy and influential citizens, among them the pastor who received him into the Church These gentlemen asked Mr. Lovejoy to desist from discussing the slavery question, and expressed the opinion that American slavery was sanctioned by the Bible. All these papers were published in the Observer, also an appeal from Mr Lovejoy to his fellow-citizens He claimed the right to publish what he thinks best, and expresses a willingness to answer before the courts for any abuse of that right. In answer to the resolution, expressing the belief that the Bible sanctions American slavery, he asks his Protestant bretheren to apply the Golden Rule to the slavery question, in order to know whether it is or is not sanctioned by the Bible. He also tells them that his anti-slavery views are the smallest part of his offence, that the true cause of his being assailed, is the open and decided stand he has taken against Popery It is impossible to give a correct idea of the document. It occupies fifteen duodecimo pages. His candor and simplicity is very much like that manifested in the writings and speeches of Abraham Lincoln. His remarks to his brethren, whom he feels are led by a delusion into a snare. are exceedingly tender and full of the spirit of the Savior of mankind He says to them, "if the popular vengeance needs a victim, I offer myself a willing sacrifice to any assault that may be made upon me, I declare it to be my purpose to make no resistance." He entreats his friends to pray for him, that he may pass through the crisis and not deny his Lord and Master The excitement was so great that the original owners desired him to return the control of the property to them, which he did, although they could not legally have compelled him to do so A friend was very unexpectedly raised up, who secured and restored the press to him on condition that he would remove it to Alton in order to save it from destruction He agreed to this, and came to Alton to make arrangements for removal, but a letter followed, asking him to return to St Louis he did so and continued to edit the paper there On the 28th of April 1836 a negro man named McIntosh, resisted the officers or the law in their attempt to arrest two sailors that had been fighting They then arrested McIntosh and while two of them were taking him to jail he drew a knife killed one and wounded the other of the officers He was at length secured in jail, from which he was taken by a mob bound to a stake and burned in open daylight It was a long time before any attempt was made to bring the perpetrators of the horrid crime to justice Judge Lawless, in charging the grand jury who were expected to investigate the matter, without a semblance of truth on which to base it charged the editor of the Observer with having caused the negro to commit the murder and declared that there was no law to punish those who burned him at the stake, that the act was above and beyond the reach of law The next number of the Observer announced that as the last to appear in St Louis and that it had been decided to remove to Alton In the same number the editor commented on the charge of Judge Lawless to the grand jury He repelled the assertion that he had caused the negro to commit the murder He alluded to the fact that the Judge was an Irishman and a Catholic, and gave it as his opinion that such views in regard to the enforcement, or, rather non enforcement of the laws could only be entertained as the result of jesuitical teaching That its tendency was to subvert all law and place society back to its original condition of barbarism In his comments he made no allusion to the color of the victim burnt at the stake whose crime he characterized as atrocious but only pleaded for the enforcement of the laws as a remedy against crime The press of the Observer was shipped to Alton as soon as this number was printed and before it had time to show what effect it would have on the public As soon as it was known a mob visited the office and destroyed the remaining materials His household goods were also destroyed in transit The press contrary to agreement was landed at Alton, on Sunday morning July 21 1836 Mr Lovejoy declined to remove it on that day, and it lay in safety at the river until some time during the night when it was broken in pieces and thrown into the river by five or six persons It is not known whether they belonged to Alton, or not. July ... a public meeting of the citizens of Alton resolved to make good the loss The money was accordingly raised, sent to Cincinnati, a new press procured, and the first number issued in Alton, September 8, 1836. The Observer did not make the discussion of slavery a specialty, but the Sodomites were not more faithfully dealt with than were the people of the Mississippi Valley in regard to all their sins His editorial entitled "The Bubble Burst," immediately after the financial crash which appeared May 25, 1837, reviews all the sins committed by men in their insane desire to become suddenly rich. Some passages of the editorial seem almost apostolic His warnings rebukes, and exhortations to his editorial brethren for their unfaithfulness were timely and true, but without bitterness or an approach to sarcasm Slavery was no more prominently discussed than many other sins In the number of the paper for June 29, 1837 there appeared a call from the American Anti Slavery Society for volunteers to circulate petitions for the abolition of Slavery in the District of Columbia, with a few words by the editor approving of the object The next number, July 6 contained an editorial advocating the necessity of organizing a state Anti Slavery Society In this editorial, written on the 4th of July occurs the following language

This day reproaches our sloth and inactivity It is the day of our nation's birth Even as we write crowds are hurrying past our window in eager anticipation to the appointed bower to hear the declaration that All men are created equal to hear the eloquent orator denounce in ... [illegible]

[To be Concluded]

SIMPLE FAINTING AND APOPLEXY.—When a man is asleep his pulse beats, and his lungs play but he is without sense and you can easily wake him up

In a person faints he too is without sense but he has no pulse and does not breathe. Apoplexy is between the two the heart beats the lungs play as in sleep and there is no sense as in fainting, but you can't shake the man back to life

In sleep the face is natural
In a fainting fit it has the pallor of death
In Apoplexy it is swollen, turgid and livid

If a man is asleep, let him alone, nature will wake him up as soon as he has got sleep enough

When a person faints all that is needed is to lay him down on the floor and he will come to in a moderately quick time He fainted because the heart missed a beat failed for an instant to send the blood to the brain If you place the patient in a horizontal position, lay him on his back. It does not require much force of the heart to send the blood on a level to the head but, if you set a man up the blood has to be sent upward to the head and this requires much more force yet, in nine cases out of ten if a person faints and falls to the floor, the first thing done is to run to him and set him up, or place him on a chair

In apoplexy, as there is too much blood in the head, everyone can see that the position is to set a man up, and the blood naturally tends downwards—as much so as water will come out of a bottle when it is turned up side down if the cork is out.

If, the man is nearly asleep let him alone, for the face is natural

If a man has fainted, lay him flat on his back, for his face is deadly pale

If a man is apoplectic, set him in a chair because the face is turgid, swollen, and livid with its excess of blood

What is apoplexy? From the suddenness of the attack and the apparent carelessness of it, the Greeks connected it in their own minds with the idea of a stroke of lightning as coming from the Almighty hand, it literally means a "stroke from above" As instantaneous as the hurling of a thunderbolt in a clear sky, there comes a loss of sense and feeling and thought, and motion, the heart beats, the lungs play, but that is all—they soon cease forever The Romans, considered the person to be "thunderstruck," or planet struck, as if it were of an unearthly origin

The essential nature of apoplexy is an unnatural amount of blood in the brain what ever sends too much to the brain may cause apoplexy, whatever keeps the blood coming from the brain—dams it up—may cause apoplexy; that is the kind of apoplexy which seems to come without any apparent adequate cause. Tying a cord around the neck, or holding the head downwards too long, can bring on an attack of apoplexy, by damming up the blood in the brain, and keeping it from returning to the body

A sudden mental emotion can send too much blood to the brain, or too great mental excitement does the same thing It is the essential nature of all wines and spirits to send an increased amount of blood to the brain, hence alcohol is said to stimulate the brain

The first effect of taking a glass of wine or stronger form of alcohol, is to send the blood there faster than common, hence it quickens the circulation, that gives the red face, it increases the inactivity of the brain, and so does the tongue But as the blood goes to the brain faster than common, it returns faster, and no special permanent harm results But, suppose a man keeps on drinking, the blood is sent to the brain much faster, in such large quantities that in order to make room for it, the arteries have to enlarge themselves they increase in size, and in doing so, press against the more yielding flaccid veins, which carry the blood out of the brain, and thus considerably diminish their size, their pores; the result being, that the blood is not only carried to the arteries of the brain faster than is natural or healthful, but it is prevented from leaving it as fast as usual, hence, a double set of causes of death are set in operation Hence, a man may drink enough brandy or other spirits in a few hours, or even minutes, to bring on a fatal attack of apoplexy; this is literally being dead drunk. Chalybeate Spring Water!

BOTTLED FROM THE SPRING, AT KATAHDIN IRON WORKS, ME.

This water holds in solution a large proportion of IRON with SULPHUR and a trace of ARSENIC, and from its combination, is one of the best means of restoring an impoverished blood to a healthy state

It is peculiarly adapted to relieve debilitated conditions of the urinary organs, and in many cases has completely cured persons who have tried many other medicines without any relief.

It can be taken at any hour of the day—but after meals is preferable—in quantities from one half pint to two pints per day It blackens the stools and produces other changes that occur in taking iron in any form

USE H. T HELMBOLD'S
EXTRACT BUCHU

For all affections and diseases of these organs whether
EXISTING IN MALE OR FEMALE
From whatever cause originating and no matter how long standing. Diseases of these organs require the aid of a diuretic
H. T. Helmbold's Extract Buchu
Is the Great Diuretic
And it is certain to have the desired effect in all diseases for which it is recommended

BLOOD! BLOOD! BLOOD!
H T HELMBOLD'S
HIGHLY CONCENTRATED COMPOUND
FLUID EXTRACT SARSAPARILLA

for purifying the Blood removing all chronic constitutional diseases arising from an impure state of the Blood and the only reliable and effectual known remedy for the cure of Scrofula Scald Head Salt Rheum Pains and Swellings of the Bones Ulcerations of the Throat and Legs Blotches Pimples on the Face Tetter Erysipelas and all scaly Eruptions of the Skin
AND BEAUTIFYING THE COMPLEXION

NOT A FEW of the worst disorders that afflict mankind arise from the corruption that accumulates in the Blood Of all the discoveries that have been made to purge it out none can equal in effect HELMBOLD'S COMPOUND EXTRACT OF SARSAPARILLA It cleanses and renovates the Blood instills the vigor of health into the system and purges out the humors which make disease It stimulates the healthy functions of the body and expels the disorders that grow and rankle in the blood Such a remedy that could be relied on has long been sought and now the public have one on which they can depend Our space here does not admit of certificates to show its effects but the trial of a single bottle will show to the sick that it has its virtues surpassing anything they have ever taken

Two tablespoonfuls of the Extract of Sarsaparilla added to a pint of water is equal to the Lisbon Diet Drink and one bottle is fully equal to a gallon of the Syrup of Sarsaparilla or the decoction as usually made

O

H. T. Helmbold's Rose Wash,

An excellent Lotion for diseases arising from habits of dissipation used in connection with the Extracts Buchu and Sarsaparilla, in such diseases as recommended Evidence of the most responsible and reliable character will accompany the medicines Also explicit directions for use with hundreds of thousands living witnesses, and upwards of 30 000 unsolicited certificates and recommendatory letters many of which are from the highest sources including eminent Physicians, Clergymen Statesmen &c The Proprietor has never resorted to their publication in the newspapers he does not do this from the fact that his articles rank as standard Preparations, and do not need to be propped up by certificates

The Science of Medicine like the Doric Column should stand simple pure, majestic having fact for its basis, Induction for its pillar and Truth alone for its Capital

My Extract Sarsaparilla is a Blood Purifier my Extract Buchu is a Diuretic, and will act as such in all cases

Both are prepared on purely scientific principles—in vacuo—and are the most active measures of either that can be made A ready and conclusive test will be a comparison of their properties with those set forth in the following works
